Professional Summary

I am a web developer, web designer and content creator. I have been studying web programming since October 2021. During this time, more than 40 websites and applications have been created using technologies such as Sass, Tailwind, React, etc.

I also practice in creating and layout web pages using the Figma graphic editor. I am fairly familiar with basic Linux terminal commands. I have real experience in copywriting: written more than 100 articles of which 92 are currently sold, without a single return or negative feedback.

I live in Yoshkar-Ola, Russia. I love to cook, travel and play outdoor sports.
